iCAP: Streamlined Cloud Management for Edge AI Devices

As the demand for AI applications and edge devices surges, businesses actively seek a reliable cloud administration platform. In alignment with the industry's drive to simplify device and AI model management, iCAP, the Innodisk Cloud Administration Platform, emerges as a user-friendly solution accessible through any browser.

iCAP empowers users to effortlessly monitor critical system details within edge devices, such as CPU loading, memory usage, storage lifespan, and other hardware information. Additionally, users can set notification rules for alerts when storage life is approaching. Explore iCAP for streamlined cloud management and the seamless deployment of AI models.

AI Integration

- AI Model Zoo, a collection of pre-trained models for diverse tasks
- AI Model Deployment to edge devices, ensuring efficient operation, continuous monitoring, and keeping AI models up-to-date
- AI Task Management by integrating AI models with specific cameras and defining tasks for streamlined management across multiple devices

Cross-Platform Compatibility
Compatible with NVIDIA Jetson, FPGA, and x86 system.
User-Friendly Experience
Easy-to-use design featuring a straightforward dashboard interface
Mobile app support for easy monitoring and remote control
